Those hours when happy hours were my estate,
Entailed, as proper, for the next in line,
yet mine the harvest, and the title mine,
Those acres, fertile, and the furrow straight,
From which the earth would rise — all of my late
Enchantments, still, in brilliant colors, shine,
But stripped with black, the tulip, lawn and vine,
Like gardens looked at through an iron gate,
yet not as one who never sojourned there
I view the lovely segments of a past
I lived with all my senses, well aware
That this was perfect, and it would not last:
I smell the flower, though vacuum-still the air;
I feel its texture, though the gate is fast.

— Edna St. Vincent Millay

Wisdom grows with age

Teach them
They will learn by you

time
can four years physically fly?
time
we have grown in so many ways.
time
we have built paths for future feet to follow in.
time
many times we have failed,
yet more times we have succeeded.
time
we have created eternal friendships.
time
we have pressed our memories safely away in a special book.
time
the smell of musty classrooms,
pink magnolias against a sparkling blue sky,
the sound of laughter,
a warm smile.
time
thoughtlessly, I yearn for those days again.
time
realistically, I strive for the future and a new beginning.
time
yet constantly ponder
the rapid velocity
of
time.

CRYSTALLINE

The crystalline palm grips the wooden rail with frozen fingers.
It starts to thaw slowly in the sun's light.

No cloud, no tree can sheild this icy digit from the hot orb's beating ray — already it weeps.

Frosty fingers, once frigid and firm,
are soon soft and supple.

The tepid tears fall more frequently now and dive playfully into the pool beneath.

Strong solar streams beam down on the dangling ice inch until it surrenders to its liquid state shedding one last tear.

Cap and Gown Ceremony

This sparked the beginning of senior year for the class of 1979. We, as a class, received a blessing for our caps and gowns. The class of 1979 came to the realization that our precious days at this college were rapidly coming to a close.

Oh Marvin, what would Regis be without you?
Your pizzas, your cookies, your salads, your sundaes, your pies.
The holiday treats we all enjoyed, the lobster and the steak.
Reading days seemed to pass so slow, until your 9:30 break.
Your love and kindness has touched us all in our college years.

Father — Daughter Dance

A Regis tradition which everyone loves is the annual Father-Daughter Dance. This year the evening was a complete sell-out at the Chateau de Ville in Framingham on April 7, 1979.

Regis College Glee Club

The Regis College Glee Club rehearsed daily, preparing for concerts with the Coast Guard Academy, WPI, and Villanova Glee Clubs. As always, the highlight of the year was singing at Symphony Hall for Regis Night at Pops.

BREAKAWAY

Dusk lasts for a short while
And a happening begins
The pinkness of clouds fades
  into deep shades of purple
The sun's rays stretch no longer
  among the earth
A blanket of black velvetness lays on the horizon and A single glitter of silver shines alone
It casts no light on the earth
(only in someone's heart!)
The darkness is only broken by tiny specs of glitter
Maybe each star is a sun
shining on its own
sort of world
And the earth is just a sparkle in someone else's eyes
On one of those distance glitters of silver

Turn

Look

The hours run into

now.
The final glance
Over one shoulder as you prepare to . . .
run,
trip,
shout,
cheer.

Wait
and gather thoughts of before.
Stop

laughter, the hope, the joy of leaving one world for another.

Reluctantly we came to Regis,
  fearing the difficulties,
  unaware of the joys.
We have built friendships.
We have built standards for ourselves.
We have built dreams;
  and we have watched many of our dreams collapse.
Yet we have shared in our laughter,
  shared in our failures,
  and shared in each other's dreams.
Confidently we will leave Regis,
  our difficulties have become lessons,
  our joys have become memories.

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

To laugh often and love much;
To win the respect of intelligent persons and the affection of children;
To earn the approval of honest critics
and endure the betrayal of false friends;
To appreciate beauty;
To find the best in others;
To give of one's self without the slightest thought of return;
To have accomplished a task,
whether by a healthy child, a rescued
soul, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition;
To have played and laughed with enthusiasm and sing with exultation;
To know that even one life has breathed easier because you have lived;
This is to succeed.

— Annoymous

anticipate the fall of the book cover,
before it closes.
yet never shut it
totally.
it represents you.
what you were once.
keep the feelings you had,
the friendships you held precious ALIVE.
For it is within this book,
and within your heart,
that YOUTH
will THRIVE.
